To meet the unprecedented demand for Tan Oxfords this season we have been obliged to carry an enormous stock. Our inventory just taken shows that we still have practically complete assortments of the most desirable styles. Since our store policy permits of no carrying over of unseasonable goods from one year to another, and in order positively to insure a quick clearance of these lines we announce a sale on all of our light weight summer shoes.

THE YOKE

A Romance of the Days When the Lord Redeemed the Children of Israel From the Bondage of Egypt
By Elizabeth Miller

She drew back, her face burning under an expression of positive pain.

"Thou, as an Egyptian, hast honored me, a Hebrew, with thy notice. I have deserved neither gift nor fee."

"Nay, but let us put it differently," he replied, "I, as a man, have given thee, a maiden, offense, and, having repeated, would appease thee with a peace offering. Believe me, I do not jest."

The Israelite's blue eyes were veiled quickly, but the Egyptian guessed aright that she had hidden a smile in them.

"Am I forgiven?" he persisted.

"So thou wilt offend no further," she said without raising her eyes.

"I promise. And now, since the goddess hath refused mine offering, I may not take it back. What shall I do with this?" he asked, holding up the collar of gold.

"Put it about thy statue's neck," she said softly.

Kenkenes gasped and retreated a step. Instantly she was imploring his pardon.

"It was a forward spirit in me that made me say it. I pray thee, forgive me."

"Thou hast given no offense, but how dost thou know of this? Tell me that."

"I came upon it by accident three days ago. I knew myself the moment I looked, and it was not hard to guess whose work it was."

"Thou hast told no one?"

"Nay," was the quick and earnest answer.

"Thou hast caught me in a falsehood," he said. "I am carving a statue against the canon of the sculptor's ritual for the sake of my love of beauty. Until thou didst come upon it I alone possessed the secret. Thou knowest the punishment which will overtake me?"

At this moment the water bearers came in sight, and in obedience to very evident dismissal in the Israelite's eyes Kenkenes bade her farewell and left her.

But he had not gone two paces before she overtook him.

"Approach thy work from various directions," she cautioned, "else thou wilt wear a path which may spy on thee one day."

The moment the words passed her lips Kenkenes, who still held the collar, put it about her neck, passing his hands under the thick plaits, and snapped the clasp accurately.

The act was done instantly and with but a single movement. He was gone, laughing on his way, before she had realized what he had done.

CHAPTER IX.
HEBREW CRAFT.

WHEN Mentu returned from On a light had kindled in his eyes and his stately step had grown elastic. The man that withdraws from a busy life while in full vigor has beckoned to death. Inactivity preys upon him like a disease. The great artist, forced into idleness by the succession of an incapable king, had been renewed by the prospect of labor which his exaltation into the high office of royal architect had afforded. With pleasure in his heart, Kenkenes watched his father grow young again.

"Who was thy good friend in this?" the young man asked one evening after a number of contented remarks concerning the market's appointment.

"Who said the word in the Pharaoh's ear?"

"So, to raise me to this office it is needful that something more than my deserts must have urged the king?" Mentu retorted.

"Nay, that was not my meaning!" Kenkenes made haste to say. "But thou knowest, my father, that Menepthah must be forever directed. Who, then, offered him this wise counsel?"

"It was never Har-hat," Mentu replied, but half pleaded.

"If he had, thou and I must no longer call him a poor counselor."

Mentu shook his head, but there was no more temper evident in his face.

"Now is a propitious hour for a good counselor," Kenkenes pursued.

"What knowest thou?" Mentu asked, with interest.

"Tape," the young man replied briefly.

"The sedition in Tape is old and vitiated."

"And the Hak-heh?"

"That breach may be healed. But we have sedition to fear among the bond people."

"The bond people?"

"Even so. Open and organized sedition."

"The Israelites?" Kenkenes exclaimed, with an incredulous note in his voice.

"The Israelites."

"I would sooner fear a rebellion among the draft oxen and the mules of Nehapem" [the Fayum].

"The elder Set's fears and the fears of the great Ramesses were other than yours."

"Oh, aye, they had cause for fear then, but since Set yoked the creatures?"

"The Pharaohs did not begin in time," the elder man interrupted. "Had that royal fiat, the decimation of Hebrew children, continued, we should not have had the Israelite today, but gods!" He shuddered with horror.

"I hope that is a horrid slander—tradition, not fact. I like not to lay the slaughter of babes at the door of any Egyptian dynasty, but had an early Pharaoh of the house of Thothmes enforced the absorption of the Hebrew by his same rank among the Egyptians we should not have the menace of a hostile alien within our borders today. The heavy hand of oppression has made a wondrous race of them for strength. There is no mean intellect. Great men have come from among them, and they will be a hardy foe arrayed against us."

"They are not warriors. They are poor and unskilled for hostilities. They are thoroughly under subjection," the young man pursued. "What can they do against us?"

"Do!" Mentu exclaimed with impatience in the repetition. "They have only to say to the banished Hyksos: 'Come ye, let us do battle with Egypt. We will be your mercenaries.' They have only to send greeting to that lean traitor Amon-meses, thus: 'Give us the delta to be ours and we will help you win all Egypt,' and there will be enough done."

"They must have a pact among themselves and a leader first," Kenkenes objected.

"Have I not said they are organized and their leader is found? He is a foster brother to Menepthah, an initiated priest of Isis, a sorcerer and an infidel of the blackest order. He is Prince Moses, a Hebrew by birth."

"Dost thou know him?" Kenkenes asked, with interest.

"Nay, he has dwelt in Midian these forty years. He returned some time ago and hath dwelt passively in Goshen till"—

The artist dropped his voice and came nearer to his son.

"He hath dwelt passively in Goshen till of late, and it is whispered that some secret work against him, inaugurated by the priesthood, or mayhap the Pharaoh, hath given him provocation to revolt against Menepthah."

After a silence Kenkenes asked in a lowered tone:

"Hath he made demonstration?"

"Oh, aye, he is clamoring to lead his people a three days' journey into the wilderness to make sacrifice to their god."

"Shades of mine ancestors! If that is all, let them, so they return," Kenkenes said amicably.

"Let them!" the sculptor exploded. "Dost thou believe that they would return?"

"I apprehend that the Rameside army would be capable of thwarting them if they were disposed to depart permanently."

"Thou dost apprehend—aye, of a truth I know thou dost! Hail all our works of peace for an indefinite time, mass the vast army of the Pharaoh and spend days and good arrows in retrieving the runaways merely that a barbarian god may smell the savor of holy animals sacrificed! Gods! Kenkenes, thou art as trustworthy a counselor as Har-hat!"

Thereafter there was a silence in the workshop. But a peopery man is seldom sulky, and Kenkenes was fully prepared for the mildness in his father's voice when he spoke again.

"Thou shouldst see the pretense in his demand, Kenkenes. He must have provocation to urge him to rebellion, and he knows full well that Menepthah will not grant that petition."

"But hath he not provocation? Thou hast but a moment ago told"—

"But that was only an offense against him. The whole people would not go into revolt because some one had conspired against one of their number. Therefore he telleth Israel that its God would have Israel make a pilgrimage, promising curses upon the people if they obey not. Then he putteth the appeal to the Pharaoh and the Pharaoh denieth it. Wherefore the whole people is enraged and hath rallied to the conspirator's cause. Seest thou, my son?"

"It is strategy worthy the incomparable Pharaoh!"

"It is Hebrew craft!"

"Perhaps thou art right. But what personal grudge hath Moses against Egypt or the priesthood or Menepthah?"

"It is said that he was wanted out of the way, and by an unfortunate sum of accidents, the miscarriage of a priest's letter and a fight between a messenger and Bedouins in front of a Hebrew tent gave the information into the hands of Moses himself."

By this time Kenkenes was on his feet.

"A miscarriage of a priest's letter," he repeated slowly.

The artist nodded.

After the silence the young man spoke again:

"And thou believest truly that because of this letter—because of this Israelite's grievance against the powers of Egypt—we shall have uprising and serious trouble among our bond people?"

"I have said," Mentu answered, raising his head as though surprised at the earnestness in his son's voice. Kenkenes did not meet his father's eyes. He turned on his heel and left the workshop.

Had the spiteful Seven, the Hathors, used him as a tool whereby mischief should be wrought between the nation and her slaves?

When the imperative necessity of harmonious expression became apparent the young artist laid aside his chisel and mallet, and the Arabian desert knew his footsteps no more for many days after the rough hewing of Athor's face. Instead he mingled with the people of Memphis in quest of the expression. The pursuit became fascinating and all absorbing. With the most deliberate calculation he studied the faces of the betrothed and of newly wedded wives, and finding too much of content therein, he sought out the unloved for study. And with these his search ended.

Thereafter he made innumerable heads in clay and covered linen scrolls with drawings. But it was the semblance he gained and not the spirit. The light eluded him.

THE END IS NEAR

Everything Indicates That the Peace Conference Will Soon End

IN COMPLETE FAILURE

The Questions Involved Leave No Room For Usual Tricks of Diplomacy.

And There Must Be a Sacrifice of Pride or the War Will Go On.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 26.—It looks now as if the peace conference is headed straight for the rocks. Tomorrow's developments may illumine prospects that now admit of little hope.

Paris, Aug. 26.—The peace conference is commanding increasing interest, the newspapers displaying pessimistic views, coupled with a tinge of hope that President Roosevelt's role of champion of peace may save the day. The special dispatches from St. Petersburg furnish dark comments, and are in harmony with the dispatch from Portsmouth to the French newspapers, among which is one giving an interview with M. Witte.

The Russian envoy is quoted as saying: "There has been no change in the situation since yesterday. President Roosevelt is actually in direct communication with the emperor. I have not received fresh instructions, and believe that another adjournment is probable."

It is thought that Emperor Nicholas will send his reply to President Roosevelt direct. The indemnity figure as given here is placed at something over $600,000,000. M. DeMartens is quoted in an interview as comparing the present situation at Portsmouth with the darkness of night. He added: "Russia cannot and will not pay indemnity or give up Sakhalin."

HOPING FOR COMPROMISE

St. Petersburg People Hoping for Settlement of War.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—Everybody in St. Petersburg is awaiting the developments of today in the peace moves and hoping that a compromise is being effected, the most likely basis of which it is believed would be no indemnity, but a payment for Sakhalin to be left for future adjustment. In fact, it was asserted yesterday in an exceptionally well informed quarter, that this was the only possible basis for a compromise.

Up to 8 o'clock last evening Ambassador Meyer had received no message from Washington. The idea that President Roosevelt might again communicate with the emperor through the American ambassador finds credence in certain official quarters. The exchange of telegrams between Portsmouth and the foreign office continues, but the nature of these dispatches is a most carefully guarded secret. It can be asserted, however, on the best authority that any suggestion to Russia from any source whatever that she assent to the payment of indemnity would be most unwelcome, though a sincere desire for peace leaves her open for the suggestion of a compromise on other grounds.

Cholera Predicted.

Danzig, Prussia, Aug. 26.—The authorities have failed to discover any new cases of Asiatic cholera at Culm, West Prussia, or elsewhere in the territory adjacent to the Vistula river. Stations have been established along the river near the Russian frontier for the purpose of inspecting and limiting the river traffic. This action has been taken because, as stated in these dispatches yesterday, the disease was brought to Culm by two Russian raftsmen, who died of it. The supposition, however, is that these two cases were survivals of the last cholera epidemic. Since that epidemic a system of inspection has prevailed in southern Russia, middle Russia and Asiatic Russia. Professor Chancémissse of Paris told the medical academy recently that Europe was in danger of a cholera epidemic from the East and that western Prussia was a possible inlet for the disease. The medical authorities of Prussia, therefore, have taken vigorous hold of the situation and will adopt every means to prevent the spread of the disease.

Boys Honor President.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 26.—President Roosevelt has accepted the office of honorary vice president of the Public Schools Athletic League, the headquarters of which is in New York city. In his letter to Gen. G. W. Wingate, the president of the league, President Roosevelt expresses his cordial approval of athletics along healthy lines among school children.

Land Office Business.

Washington, Aug. 26.—A compilation of the business done by the general land office during the fiscal year ending June 30 last shows that 91,084 patents were issued. This is an increase of 34,698 over the issue of the previous year. At the beginning of the present fiscal year there were 53,586 cases pending, a decrease of 36,042.

THIRTY MILLION DOLLARS

Worth of Property Added to the Tax Duplicate.

Indianapolis, Aug. 26.—Secretary of State Dan Storms says that the recent session of the state board of tax commissioners resulted in nearly $30,000,000 worth of property being added to the tax duplicate. He made the point, however, that all of this amount could not be put down as increase in taxation, as most of it was on entirely new property, which, by the way, shows how the corporations are increasing their business in Indiana. He said that the Wabash, Monon, Pennsylvania and Southern Indiana were the only roads the valuation of whose property was increased. The increase in interurbans was due almost entirely to extension of lines and improvements. The board was in session forty-five days and the members are pretty well tired out as the result of their labors.

The result of the meeting to fix a uniform freight rate on coal for the gas belt will be awaited with great interest, as the future of that section of the state is at stake. One manufacturer who attended the railway commission meeting stated privately that if the commission raises the rate on coal in order to prevent discrimination in favor of the manufacturing interests, that $10,000,000 worth of factory property will be removed from the gas belt within the next year. The complaint for an adjustment on coal came from Elwood, where there are three rates. The railroads charge 85 cents for hauling domestic coal to Elwood, 75 cents for steam coal and 60 cents for manufacturers' coal. It was not denied either by the manufacturers or the representatives of the railroads, that the manufacturers have been allowed a differential for a long time, but it was claimed by both sides that it is necessary in order that the industries may live. The railway commission law, however, provides specifically that there shall be no discrimination in rates, so the commission has a hard problem to solve, as the manufacturers made it clear that they must have a lower rate than 75 or 85 cents a ton. It was the understanding among the manufacturers that the commission contemplated raising the rate to 75 cents a ton.

The upshot of the controversy over the gas belt coal rate may be that the railroads will have to give all consumers benefit of the factory rate. Joseph Keavey, general freight agent of the Big Four in Indianapolis, said the 50-cent rate was given after gas failed in order that the manufacturers might have opportunity of getting their business under way while starting the use of a new fuel. He maintained that it was not a guaranteed rate, and was so understood when it was granted. He insisted that the 60-cent rate now in effect left no profit to the road, but on the contrary it meant the handling of coal at a sacrifice. His company, he said, made the rate in order to help maintain the communities through which its road passed. The profitable business comes from the in- and out-bound freight secured. He was asked regarding a rumor that the freight rates are to be raised. He said that under the circumstances it would not be wise to attempt to raise the rates, but he declared that if the rates are changed they will be made higher. He said he had not heard a single complaint from the users of steam coal regarding the rates given to manufacturers.

It is worthy of notice the manner in which the friends of George Ade from the Kentland neighborhood speak of him. Ade resided at Kentland before he became famous. His father and brother still live there. George visits them frequently, and his arrival at Kentland is always a signal for the people to get together and do him honor. All of the people from that section seem to delight in telling something to indicate that he is not only the "greatest ever" in their opinion, but that he is really entitled to his fame. One of them who was here to-day said that Ade's head has not been turned by his success, and that he is investing his money in fine farm land around Kentland. He promises to soon become one of the big land owners of that section. He stopped off at Kentland a few days ago en route to New York, and it is said he informed some of his friends modestly that his income has now reached the sum of $50,000 a year.

BY REVOLVING SHAFT

A Young Man Is Caught and Dashed to Death.

Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 26.—A terrible accident occurred here yesterday when John Sheron, aged thirty-five, while throwing on a belt at the plant of the Central Foundry company, was caught on a shaft and whirled to his death. Sheron was revolving on the shaft fully five minutes before he was discovered and the machinery stopped. His body was whipped almost into ribbons and scarcely a bone remained unbroken. Coroner Buley says the accident was the worse he ever attended. Sheron leaves a widow and two children.

A Few Snakes.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 26.—W. H. Price and Assistant Wade, threshing near Crimstown, this county, discovered and killed a nest of seventeen rattlesnakes and one pilot snake. These reptiles are very plentiful in northern Indiana and have bitten quite a number of people.

A SLIGHT INCREASE

In Number of New Cases Reported From New Orleans.

OBEY REGULATIONS

Is the Command of Dr. White Whose Courage Appears Undaunted Amid Great Obstacles.

Says It Is Possible to Stamp Out Fever Within Thirty Days.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—New cases yesterday, 65; total to date, 1,665; deaths yesterday, 6; total to date, 232; new foci, 16; total, 376; cases remaining under treatment, 280.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—Action has been taken at a meeting of the state board of health to enable the federal authorities to put a stop to indiscriminate travel between infected points and New Orleans, the idea being, as already pointed out in these dispatches, to prevent Italians and others from returning to New Orleans from settlements where the fever now exists and causing fresh infection here. This action was desired by the marine hospital service in the belief that they are not controlling the fever and that there is a possibility of reducing it to insignificance if not of eradicating it entirely by the first of October.

The yellow fever situation today is regarded as having undergone no change. Dr. White's announcement that if the people will faithfully screen and disinfect an obdurate regulations which have been made, and if all elements continue as at present to report cases promptly, it is possible that there will be an entire cessation of the infection within the next thirty days and spread a most hopeful feeling through the community. There was some rise in the number of new cases yesterday over Thursday, but the health authorities said no unfavorable conclusions were to be drawn from that fact, and that there was likely to be variation of this character from day to day.

Two of the deaths during the past twenty-four hours illustrate the urgent need for prompt report if the patients are to have any chance of recovering. Both died through neglect. One, an Italian woman, was ill in her home without a physician for five days before neighbors discovered the fact. She was beyond human aid when the doctors found her. The other case was that of a Greek. He was found in an attic and stoutly objected to being reported as a yellow fever patient. When the ambulance reached him he was in practically a moribund condition.

Due to the fact that false impressions apparently exist elsewhere the Southern Pacific announces that there is no delay whatever to through freight from any section to points west of the Mississippi river. All the roads make the same announcement with respect to through traffic, and there has been no diversion whatever of trans-Atlantic tonnage.

Dr. J. N. Thomas, in charge of the quarantine station at the mouth of the river, made a report to the state board of health yesterday. Dr. Thomas said: "Fruit trade with Colon should be prohibited. If it was to proceed yellow fever could more easily be prevented from landing on southern coasts. Colon has always been a danger point."

Foresters Oppose Japanese.

Buffalo, Aug. 26.—The Foresters of America in biennial convention here unanimously passed a resolution favoring exclusion of Japanese from the United States on the same lines as the present Chinese exclusion. The resolution was introduced by E. I. Wolfe of California. Mr. Wolfe is president pro tem of the California Japanese Exclusion society. He explained that the resolution was directed only against the Japanese and Korean coolie element, which he said is as detrimental as Chinese coolie immigration. They have even gone into the contracting business in California, he said, and cited an instance where a Japanese contractor built a house for $4,500 where an American could not do it for less than $5,500.

Reunion of Quantrell's Men.

Kansas City, Aug. 26.—Cole Younger, the former bandit, was the principal figure at the annual reunion of the survivors of Quantrell's guerrillas, at Independence, Mo., yesterday. Half a hundred members of the band, including, besides Younger, Jim Cummings, who was noted after the civil war as members of the James and Younger gang; D. Hughes of Hughes, Ark., and Lieutenant Lee Miller of Knobnoster, Mo., were present.

White Kills Negroes.

Valdosta, Ga., Aug. 26.—Lewis and Joe Davis, negro brothers, were shot and killed at Brier's still in Brooks county. The shooting was done by Isom Kendrick, white, who himself was wounded by the negroes. They were desperate characters and had been making a disturbance. Kendrick induced them to go away, but they returned and opened fire upon him. The coroner's jury exonerated Kendrick.

BUSINESS STATE

Is Very Satisfactory in All Mercantile and Industrial Lines.

New York, Aug. 26.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: August, a period of exceptional activity in all lines of trade and industry, draws to a close with buying showing further expansion, cereal crop yields or prospects close to the best railway tonnage increasing, collections in the West, North and East generally reported better, money exceptionally easy for this season, notwithstanding increased crop moving requirements, and confidence on all hands of a large and prospectively profitable fall and winter trade.

Drygoods of all kinds, but especially cotton fabrics, are in active sale with buyers eager to secure supplies and slow deliveries complained of. Shoes, millinery, hats, clothing and hardware are relatively active, and groceries show improvement at most markets. House trade is in larger volume at all larger centers west and east, stimulated by excursions at low rates.

At Eastern markets features are the strength of cotton goods, the eagerness of buyers of these goods to obtain supplies even at present advanced prices and the strength of raw wool, hides and leather. Reports are of a better demand for territory wools suitable for worsted goods, which have been and are selling well.

To Get State Money Lost in Bank.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 26.—Three suits aggregating $850,000 were commenced in the district court here yesterday by Attorney General C. C. Coleman, representing the state of Kansas, against bondsmen of State Treasurer T. T. Kelly to recover state funds which were in the hands of the First National bank or Topeka at the time of its failure. The first suit is for $500,000 and is brought against the Title Guaranty and Trust company of Scranton, Pa., and T. T. Kelly. The second suit is for $250,000 and is brought against the Fidelity and Guaranty company of Baltimore and T. T. Kelly. The third suit is for $100,000, and is brought against the First National bank, William Sims, C. F. Nool, W. H. Rossington and C. J. Devlin. This action is brought to collect the amount of the bond given by the bank officials to secure state deposits. The amount of state money in the First National at the time of the failure was $547,575.06.

Dishonest Clerk Indicted.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., of Washington, D. C., until recently the associate statistician of the department of agriculture, but who was dismissed as an outcome of the investigation into the leakage in the cotton crop reports, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government. This announcement was made by United States District Attorney Morgan H. Beach just after he had returned from New York city, where he has been instrumental in causing the arrest of Frederick A. Peckham, the New York broker, at Saratoga, and Moses Haas of New York. There are two indictments covering the charges against the three men.

New Anglo-Jap Alliance.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 26.—The public announcement of the new Anglo-Japanese alliance which was signed ten days ago according to information received here, is considered to strengthen Japan's position in the negotiations and is regarded as a Roland for the Russian Oliver in the emperor's assembly manifesto. At the same time it is said that it has freed England's hands and permitted her to support the president's efforts without creating suspicion at Tokio.

A large number of Americans connected with the Macedonian circus are stranded at Genoa, France, and the state department will relieve their distress.

Narrow Chests.

The old theory that consumption was inherited is utterly discredited by modern medical science. The germs of consumption must be received from without. These germs are every where. They are constantly being received and cast out by the healthy system. It is the narrow chested whose inheritance is weakness who fall a prey to consumption because they are too weak of lung to resist and throw off disease.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes weak lungs strong. It cures obstinate deep-seated coughs, bleeding lungs, emaciation, and other conditions which if neglected or unsuitably treated end a fatal termination in consumption.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"In the spring of 1900 I was taken with hemorrhage of the lungs, and became very weak and short of breath, had no appetite," writes Mr. E. L. Robinson of Xerxes, Tenn. "I was persuaded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first few bottles seemed to do me but little good. Thought I would soon be a victim of that dreaded disease, consumption. Had almost given up in despair when my friends persuaded me to give your 'Golden Medical Discovery' a fair trial. I commenced its use I weigh 150 pounds now, and when I commenced I only weighed 125 pounds. If any one doubts this statement I will be pleased to answer any inquiry."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." Nothing is "just as good." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from impurities.

The impression seems to prevail that the peace envoys will not be able to reach an agreement, but there are those who still believe that concessions will yet be made on each side and that the war will end before the envoys leave this country.

The Noblesville Ledger formally announces the candidacy of Edward Everett Neal, of Hamilton county, for clerk of the supreme court. Mr. Neal has served two terms in the legislature and was a candidate before the convention for clerk of the supreme court in 1902, which has given him a wide acquaintance over the state. He is a lawyer, a court reporter and besides owns a newspaper and is a capable man.

At Columbus an instructor from an eastern state declared that teachers should attend dances for the exercise afforded and that pupils should be taught in the schools to dance. With that sort of instruction the normal schools would soon have dancing teachers to give instruction to the prospective teachers and questions on the dance would be a part of the teachers examination. Then on Friday afternoon each school could have a dance instead of a literary program. Who will say this is not an age progress.

Horse Thief Landed.

Policeman Abe Elrod went to Indianapolis this morning after Taylor McLaughlin, who drove away with J. B. Love's horse and buggy about two weeks ago. It will be remembered that the horse and buggy were recovered in Indianapolis and that McLaughlin avoided arrest at that time. The Indianapolis police have been watching for him since and have notified Mr. Love that they have him under arrest. He will be brought back and arraigned on the charge of larceny. His case will be finally disposed of by the circuit court. It is said that McLaughlin has served a term in prison.

At Bedford Today.

Dr. S. E. Smith inspected the Ketchikan farm at Bedford today which ended his inspection of hospital sites. He will go to his home at Richmond and prepare his report to the commission. The commission will meet September 4 and it is probable that the location will be decided upon soon after that. We venture the assertion that Dr. Smith did not find any place a site with so many advantages in its favor as the one he found here at Seymour. From the start Seymour has stood on her merits believing now as we have believed from the first that merit will win. We are confident that the Seymour site possesses merit above that of any other site offered.

Hit With Cuspidor.

At Brownstown Friday a man of the name of Manning was hit on the head with a cuspidor thrown by a man named Burrell and received quite a painful wound. Their trouble occurred in a saloon according to reports.

BAND CONCERT.

Banda Rossa Will Be Heard Again Tonight.

The famous Banda Rossa under the leadership of Prof. Pasquale Prosperi will give another open air concert on the street tonight. The program is as follows:

Sues For $30,000.

At New Albany George Ayles, a former locomotive engineer on the Southern Railroad, has filed suit against the railway company for $30,000 damages on account of alleged injuries sustained in an unusual way. He alleges that on Aug. 30, 1903, while passing through the Edwardsville tunnel with his train his engine became disabled and he was compelled to remain in the tunnel forty-five minutes to repair the engine. While thus engaged he was so affected by the gases and foul air as to impair his hearing, by reason of which he became disqualified for following his avocation.

Diving Children.

W. L. Johnson, chairman of the Amusement Committee of the Log Rolling Association received a contract and some very fine lithographs from Capt. Thos. J. Q. Meier this morning to show his diving children at the carnival. This will be one of strong paid attractions and will be worthy of most liberal patronage. The children, Minnie, Tommie, Bessie and Elma are the juvenile aquatic champions of the world. Capt. Meier with his children has been an attraction at Cincinnati at the Maroo Polo festival and won favorable comment of all who were fortunate in seeing them. The children act in a way which is truly wonderful and are sure to please all who go to see them.

September Weather.

Rev. Ira Hicks makes the following weather prognostication for September:

The last storm disturbance of August will reach into September, with rain, wind and thunder, with cooler 5th to 7th.

Change to warmer 7 to 8th, with wind, rain and thunder, 9th to 11th. The 13 to 15th will also be storm periods. Full moon on the 14th, and moon on the equator on the 14th.

Frost may be reasonably expected, 15th to 19th. Rain and thunder 21st to 23d. The regular equatorial storm period, followed by decidedly cooler.

Wide, sweeping and violent storms between 27th and 30th, on both sea and land.

Hits Columbus.

Columbus papers seem to think they see something funny that Franklin should want the "fit house." Well, Franklin is not raising a big shout and writing columns of newspaper slush about the advantages of its town and then lose out, as some others seem to be doing. Having lost the southeastern insan hospital Columbus is ready to grapple the epileptic hospital. The poor old town ought to get something from the state to save it from utter oblivion.—Franklin Star.

Success.

The leading article in "Success Magazine" for September deals with the appointment of Elihu Root as Secretary of State, to take the place of the late John Hay. To say that this sketch is interesting and instructive when it is told by Walter Wellman is to attempt to emphasize a self evident truth. Mr. Wellman is one of the leading journalists of America, and is also one of Mr. Root's closest friends.

Report.

If there are any families in the city who have rooms they would like to rent during the Log Rolling or would like to take some boarders for the week to help care for the crowd, report same to C. W. Burkart at the Democrat office.

Walked Out.

Friday the leading gang at the Blush Mill walked out because they seemed to believe they had some sort of a grievance. But their places were filled in about two hours and work went on as usual. The interruption made no delay in any shipments.

Miss Ilma Helderman returned this morning from a three weeks visit with relatives at Aurora.

When Camping.

Our experience with wet weather when camping taught us that beds should never touch the wall, nor should other articles of furniture, as the tent will not shed the rain, but wet through in such places, says a Good House-keeping correspondent.

In order always to have a dry floor even when it rains, dig a small trench around the tent, and from that one an outlet down the slope (according to Fig. 1), for a tent should always be on an elevated spot. Stake the bottom edge of the tent down all around;

then, if the ends are closed, you will be quite safe even in a strong windstorm. Stakes should be driven with head slanting toward the tent, as Fig. 2 indicates. They will stand more strain. Just before a rain examine the stakes to see that they are firm, then slightly loosen the ropes, as they shrink when wet and either pull up stakes or tear the canvas. Above all, take woolen blankets. There is nothing so comforting when the weather is damp.

Helping the Order to Grow—Workshop Cleanings.

Even though you fail to secure the application of the man whom you ask to join the order, you have done some good by asking him, says the Pennsylvania Workman. You have advertised the order. Years later, perhaps three and perhaps ten, he may decide to take out fraternal protection. If you have spoken to him earnestly at the time, he will recall the reasons advanced then in favor of your order and it will have some effect upon him.

There is a boom on in the grand jurisdiction of Washington. Large gains in membership are reported.

Large Delegation.

William Boggs writes from Terre Haute that he will be here on Tuesday September 5th of the Log Rolling Carnival, in company with 100 modern Woodmen from that place. He also writes for some advertising matter to post over Terre Haute and send to Brazil and Clinton. It seems that everyone that ever lived in Seymour is making a special effort to come home some time during the week and bring their friends with them. Many such large delegations as this one would soon fill our streets to their fullest capacity and if this pleasant weather continues our city will hold the greatest number of people that has ever been in it before at one time. Invite all of your friends to come and spend the week with you and enjoy the pleasures of the Carnival.

Pleasant Day.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Alberring entertained a number of friends at their home at New Driftwood Friday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brod-fuehrer, of Cincinnati. The occasion was that of the birthday of Mrs. Brod-fuehrer, who is probably better remembered by her former name, Miss Estella Harmeyer. After an excellent dinner the afternoon was pleasantly spent at games and music. A crowd of young people drove out from here in the evening to participate in the occasion, returning home at a late hour, after enjoying a delightful evening.
